U.S. TO FEED BELGIUM

Conditions Declared to Be Already Critical in That Country

HALF-MILLION DEPEND ON CHARITY ALONE

And Through Winter 1,000,000 Must Be Given Food

London, Oct. 23.—After diplomatic negotiations extending over several weeks, in which Walter Hines Page, the American ambassador, acted as intermediary between Belgium, England and Germany, an agreement has been reached by which the starving Belgians will be fed by an American commission headed by Herbert C. Hoover of California, who has acted as chairman of the American relief committee in London, and composed of Americans resident in London and Brussels.

The food situation in Belgium is becoming absolutely critical. Already over 500,000 persons are being assisted by means of bread lines, according to the committee's reports, there being over 300,000 of these persons in Brussels alone. The supply of food for these bread stations, it is estimated, will not last more than a week longer. It is expected that the number of persons requiring relief will increase to a million within a month. A stream of specially chartered steamships will soon start for Holland with their cargoes consigned to officers of the commission at various places in Belgium. These officers will be under the direct control of the commission and will be located in London, Rotterdam, Antwerp, Brussels, Ghent, Liege and other points.

AMERICAN GOVT. NOT AIDING BELGIANS

President Points Out in Statement That Relief Movement is Strictly Private.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 23.—President Wilson pointed out yesterday that the movement to supply food and assistance to Belgium sufferers was entirely a private movement and that the United States government has no direct connection with it. An inquiry had been addressed to the government, the president said, asking whether it could assist in distributing supplies. The president declared that it was not the government's business to act as a private individual.

BELGIANS REFUSE TO RETURN TO ANTWERP

They Avoid Cities Held by the Germans—Ten Thousand Now in Flushing Without Funds.

Flushing, Netherlands, Oct. 23.—A total of 8,000 penniless Belgians quartered yesterday in Flushing refuse absolutely to return to their homes in Antwerp or other Belgian cities in the hands of the Germans. It is true a Belgian column did go back to Antwerp Wednesday, but that an equal number left yesterday, and the effort to induce large numbers to return to the cities in the possession of the Germans was futile. All the school and church buildings of Flushing are at the present time occupied by impoverished Belgians. The schools have been converted to dormitories.

date them. The normal population of this city is 20,000, but it is to-day augmented by probably 10,000 Belgians, only 2,000 of whom have funds and are able to pay their way. The municipality is bearing the expense of feeding and sheltering those who are without money. Many refugees are leaving daily for England, but the Belgian and British governments have not granted the request of Flushing for transports to facilitate this movement, and as a result the burden of Flushing has not been lifted. All the municipal officers, as well as the school teachers, are at work feeding the refugees. Soup and meat are given for dinner, and the other meals consist of meat, bread and cheese and coffee. The refugees wash their clothes and iron them and cook their meals in the school-houses. At night they sleep on straw under the seats. Physicians are keeping careful watch to see that no serious illness breaks out, but the strain of the philanthropic citizens of Flushing can stand much longer. Hundreds of refugees are sleeping in fishermen's boats in the river, and on the sands along the water front, their children in large numbers play all day long. A Dutch cruiser stands guard at the mouth of the Scheldt. Heavy cannonading was heard here this morning from the direction of Ostend.

How to Clean Your Furniture.

In the October Woman's Home Companion A. Ashman Kelly, writing under the title, "Is Your Furniture Shabby?" presents some helps to make it good as new. Following is an extract from his article:

"When the furniture begins to lose its original appearance of freshness, it should be renovated. A standard polish calls for raw linseed oil, turpentine and vinegar, well shaken, but while this is really a good polish, there is danger of allowing too much of it to remain on the surface of the furniture. Remember to remove dirt and grease, and not to give it a new surface. Hence, when you rub with a renovator, follow it with another rag and wipe off thoroughly.

"A preliminary cleansing with good soap and warm water is advised, but where there is danger of injury from getting the water into the joints where glue has been used, it would be better to use an acid. Acetic acid is excellent, and strong cedar vinegar is useful. After the article has been cleaned, it will probably appear dull, owing to the taking away of some of the original coloring matter. I have always found rubbing with an oil color corresponding to the natural color of the wood or to the color of the finish, the best thing to do. Having cleaned the surface, and in some cases having also lightly sanded, papered it, using No. 0 or 00 paper, rub on some pigment in oil. Work this well into the wood, and after a few minutes rub it off with a clean woolen rag. For walnut or dark oak, use burnt umber in oil, and for cherry or mahogany use burnt sienna in oil. Raw sienna in oil does for light-colored oaks and ash."

21,976 Fords Sold in September.

The Ford Motor company announces that in the month of September there were sold and delivered 21,976 Ford cars. This was a gain of 11,479 cars over September, 1913. This is significant, not only because it shows that the Ford production is rapidly being increased to meet the stupendous influx of orders, but also because it demonstrates that the Ford Motor company is maintaining the 300,000-car schedule necessary to give Ford purchasers between August 1, 1914, and August 31, 1915, a share of Ford profits. BREAKS AWAY FROM WILSON

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Will Oppose Roger C. Sullivan

GOES TO ILLINOIS TO MAKE SPEECHES

Other Members of Cabinet Family Are Supporting Sullivan

Washington, D. C., Oct. 23.—An interesting political situation within administration circles has arisen because Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Vrooman has gone to Illinois to make speeches against Roger C. Sullivan, Democratic candidate for the Senate. Mr. Vrooman is a progressive Democrat from Illinois and is not disposed to take orders. He appeared recently before the Senate committee on privileges and elections and urged the Sullivan primary campaign fund be investigated. He has fought Sullivan all along. However, inasmuch as the administration is not opposing Sullivan, Mr. Vrooman was disposed to make no open fight on him until he heard Postmaster General Burleson had agreed to speak in Illinois Oct. 24 in Sullivan's behalf. This was too much, so, without consulting anyone, he headed for Illinois prepared to attack Sullivan.

Vrooman's course has caused displeasure in administration circles. The politicians who are conducting the politics for the administration are vexed. They say Vrooman's action will disorganize things, and that he ought to be disciplined. But Vrooman is not a person who is given to being disciplined. Should it come to a matter of holding his job or lining up for Sullivan he would give up the job. At least, so his friends assure.

Water Bodies That Flow Two Ways.

In northern Minnesota there is a great area of land so flat that its waters sometimes flow into Hudson Bay and sometimes into the Gulf of Mexico. There are times when certain lakes discharge at both ends, the northern outlet carrying water through Red River or Rainy river to Lake Winnipeg and thence to Hudson Bay, while the southern outlet carries water to the Mississippi.

The United States Geological Survey has just published a report (Water-Survey Paper 325) containing the results of river flow measurements made during the year 1912 in the Hudson Bay and upper Mississippi river basins. Because the dividing line between the Mississippi river drainage basin and that of Hudson Bay is indefinite and in many places cannot be determined, the consideration of these two basins in connection with their water supplies and the uses that can be made of this resource must logically be taken up together.

The stream-gaging work carried on by the Geological Survey in Minnesota and Illinois was performed in co-operation with these states. The westernmost stream covered by the report is St. Mary river, which rises in Montana, crosses the Canadian border, and empties into the Saskatchewan. The other rivers are largely those of North Dakota, Minnesota, and Wisconsin, although the report contains considerable information concerning the rivers of Illinois and Iowa, which empty into the Mississippi.

Worms are Enemies of Children

Worms are one of the most feared enemies of children. There is nothing sadder than to find a child in pain, unable to eat, and to learn the cause is a simple worm. First manufactured by my father in 1880, Dr. J. C. Williams' Worm Expeller has been the principal remedy used to expel worms from children. In experiments conducted by the Bureau of Animal Industry it was found that with this as the only concentrated food given could be made in stores very economical. 250 pounds of meal often produced as much as 100 pounds of gain. When fed to a cow, this is a saving of $1.00 a day for a period of 100 to 150 days does not prove harmful to the cow. As a matter of fact, worms are the cause of many diseases, such as colic, indigestion, and other ailments. The worms are in the feed for a longer period, however, the amount fed should not be more than 3 pounds a day. For fattening cattle it is best to feed a better or more economical ration than this, as worms combined with two to three pounds of cottonseed meal and a little molasses or sugar. wintered on a ration of 30 pounds of silage, two pounds of cottonseed meal, and about five pounds of some dry roughage. On such a ration steers will pass through the winter in exceedingly good condition and even gain something in live weight. But in addition to its feeding value the fertilizing value of cottonseed meal is very high—so high indeed that often the fertilizing constituents in the meal are alone worth as much as or more than it now costs. When it is remembered that from 80 to 90 per cent of this fertilizing value remains in the manure the opportunities for profit that its use offers become even more obvious. To put the case in another way: When one includes in his calculations the enrichment of the land he finds that feeding cottonseed meal to cattle costs him only from 10 to 20 per cent of the market price of the manure.

In view of these facts, specialists in the department recommend cattle feeders in all parts of the country to secure prices on cottonseed by-products and to take advantage of the cheap foods that they provide. No other form of concentrated feed, the specialists say, will prove as profitable as cottonseed meal this year. In the south the feeders have an opportunity to get these by-products at lower prices than at any other time during the last ten years. Combined with farm-grown feeds, such as corn silage, they should be able to secure gains very cheaply, and with the present high prices for finished cattle, make good profits. Incidentally it may be said that if such a movement tends to strengthen and steady the market for cottonseed by-products, this will in itself be of considerable assistance to cotton growers in the south.

A HAPPY CHILD IN JUST A FEW HOURS

When Croup, Constipated, or if Feverish, Give "California Syrup of Figs," Then Don't Worry.

Mother, can you rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again? Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered. When croup, feverish, restless, or if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it cannot cause injury. No difference what age your little one—if full of cold, a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomach ache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "cathartic" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle. Beware of counterfeiters! Ask your druggist for a 30-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Syrup Company." Be sure you get the real thing. Send back with wrapper any other fig syrup.—Adv.
